Sir:

REQUEST TO RE-MAIL LAST OFFICE ACTION
AND RE-SET RESPONSE PERIODS
DUE TO PATENT OFFICE ERROR

On the afternoon of June 4, 2007, the undersigned's firm received for the first time a USPS package from the USPTO with the Office Action dated 12/01/2006. The USPS postage stamp on the envelope was dated May 29, 2007 (copy attached).

According to our prior files, there was no outstanding Office Action. Checking with the USPTO PAIR Website, we discovered that an Office Action dated 12/01/2006 was improperly addressed and therefore undelivered and returned by the Postal Service to the USPTO on or about December 11, 2006 with a note clearly indicating that it was not deliverable as addressed. However, rather than to take any corrective action, this document apparently simply stayed in the electronic file wrapper and no further action was apparently taken until, for unknown reasons, the USPTO again mailed the same Office Action on May 29, 2007. Although this was also incorrectly addressed, for some unknown reason the USPS forwarded this mailing to our new address (see attached copy).

On April 11, 2003, the undersigned filed in this proceeding a Correspondence Address Indication Form (copy attached together with a copy of the USPTO card receipt therefore) a clear direction for the Patent Office to direct all future correspondence to Customer Number 23117.

For over two years now the undersigned has been receiving mail for Customer Number 23117 at the address indicated below – not the prior address to which the Patent Office erroneously addressed the outstanding Office Action.

Based on the undersigned's investigation to date, it appears that the USPTO erroneously failed to associate this application with Customer Number 23117 – and therefore the Office Action of 12/01/2006 was improperly addressed and non-deliverable.

Under the circumstances, it is believed appropriate that the Office Action be resent so as to re-start the response period.

Under the circumstances, it is not believed that any fee should be required for this correction of a USPTO error. However, if any such fee is required, then authority is hereby given to charge such fee to our Account No. 14-1140.

Respectfully submitted,

NIXON & VANDERHYE P.C.
